About This Publication

Our 2010 Annual Report exists exclusively in digital format, available on our website at www.FriendsOfTheSmokies.org. In order to further the impact of our donors' resources for the park's benefit we chose to publish this report online. If you would like a paper copy, you may print it from home on your computer, or you may request a copy to be mailed to you from our office (800-845-5665). We are committed to conserving natural resources in and around Great Smoky Mountains National Park!

The images used on the front and back covers are provided through the generosity, time, and talent of Genia Stadler of Sevierville, Tennessee.

When asked to describe herself and her love for the Smokies, she said, "I was born in Alabama, but Tennessee always felt like home to me. My love for the Smokies started as a small child. My daddy brought me here each summer before he passed away. I was 9 when he died, and by then I had fallen in love with the Smokies. My husband (Gary) and I had the chance to build a cabin and move here in 2002, so we jumped at the chance. Since then, we've been exploring the park as often as we can. We've probably hiked over 300 miles of the park's trails (many repeats), and I'm trying to pass my love for this place on to my two children and two grandchildren. If your soul can belong to a place, mine belongs here."

Friends Across The Country

In 2010, nearly 4,400 individuals, corporations, and foundations representing 40 states and the District of Columbia made gifts to Friends of the Smokies, hailing from as far away as Alaska to as close as Cherokee, North Carolina. Great Smoky Mountains National Park benefits from tremendous generosity! We'd love to count Friends of the Smokies in every state. Can you help us? If you know someone who loves Great Smoky Mountains National Park and lives in Hawaii, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, North or South Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, or Rhode Island, please encourage them to become a Friend, or make a gift of membership to them for a special occasion!

In 2010, Friends of the Smokies continued its mission to help preserve and protect Great Smoky Mountains National Park by raising funds and awareness and providing volunteers for needed projects. Positive notes included the Trails Forever program, the purchase of twenty acres of land adjacent to the Soak Ash Creek wetlands (often referred to as the Hoffman property), and the continued engagement of our supporters in our special events and fundraising activities. Friends of the Smokies thanks the park staff for their ongoing hard work and dedication!

The Seventh Annual Evergreen Ball at Cherokee Country Club raised more than $350,000.

Board Chair Mark Williams presented the inaugural Legacy Award to Gary Wade, Tennessee Supreme Court Justice and founding Friends of the Smokies board member and Emeritus Chair. More than 450 of Justice Wade's closest friends were in attendance to celebrate this special honor.

Friends of the Smokies selected Wade for this special award based on his trailblazing efforts to establish the Friends of the Smokies organization in 1993, his many years of service as chairman of the board, and his heartfelt appreciation for the park and its resources. Wade's rich history of community leadership was also a factor, including his roles as Mayor of Sevierville, Tennessee Criminal Appeals Court Judge, and Tennessee Supreme Court Justice.

"Even among our many treasured supporters, though, Justice Wade has set himself apart from the crowd, and he very much deserves this special recognition," said Jim Hart, President of Friends of the Smokies.

Over the years, Wade has also earned a solid reputation as a generous philanthropist and tireless fundraiser for a variety of causes, including wildlife, education, historic preservation, and the underprivileged. With that track record in mind, Friends of the Smokies also announced the creation of the Gary Wade Wildlife Fund to support wildlife conservation projects in the Smokies.

The Gary Wade Wildlife Fund was jump started with $25,000 in gifts or pledges from board members and other donors. Do you come to the Smokies to see black bears, wild turkey, or elk? Your gift can become part of the Gary Wade Wildlife Fund by giving on Friends' secure website today, or you can send a check payable to "Friends of the Smokies," PO Box 1660, Kodak, TN, 37764, with "Gary Wade Wildlife Fund" in the notation line.

Cades Cove Loop Lope

The park staff offered Friends an once-in-a-lifetime opportunity in the form of a footrace on the newly resurfaced Cades Cove Loop Road on April 25th. For many years, individual runners and track clubs had vied for the chance to host just such an event. Two courses (a three-mile and a ten-mile) attracted runners of all ages and skill levels. With only five weeks to plan the event, and with participation limited by parking availability, the eventual total of $18,000+ raised made it all worth it.

Diana Condon, Director of Advertising for the Knoxville News Sentinel fondly remembers her experience running with colleague John North.

“We drove to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park together early in the morning on April 25, 2010 to run in the Loop Lope as ride sharing was important to accommodate the number of cars entering Cades Cove. I love to run and I love the mountains and really wanted to take part in this unique experience. The fresh pavement made every bit of moisture glimmer as the sunlight came through. Even with 150 runners, it was so serene that the many rolling hills (which I forgot about until then) were more manageable than what I would normally experience in a 10 mile run.

“While I wasn’t expecting to place in this race, I did finish 3rd in my age group. The trophy I received has a bronze-like bear head on a small wood base. It’s my most unique and favorite race prize. As was the Loop Lope experience.”

Photographer Bruce McCamish captured this shot from the starting line using a camera mounted on a 40' boom

Trails Forever

There are many positives from the 2010 Trails Forever program that it’s hard to limit our enthusiasm. Christine Hoyer, the Volunteer Coordinator for Trails & Facilities, remains a vital reason why it is so successful. Her technical abilities, public relations savvy and endless patience are all credits to Trails Forever. Throughout 2010, Christine updated the Trails Forever website with information about volunteer opportunities and progress reports (visit www.smokiestrailsforever.org for more info).

On the fundraising side of things, Sarah Weeks and Jim Hart enlisted Friends board member Natalie Haslam to recruit prominent Knoxvilleians Ann Furrow and Sherri Lee to serve as co-chairs for a new memorial fund within Trails Forever. Their combined hard work and dedication has resulted in over $459,000 in gifts and pledges for the Tom Cronan Pathfinder Fund- so far. Wellness advocate Tom Cronan's favorite stress reliever was hiking Alum Cave Trail to Mt. LeConte. He thrilled at the opportunity to introduce people to his favorite destination. The generosity of Tom's friends, family, and associates of his wife Joan Cronan (UT's Women's Athletics Director) have brought the fund balance near its goal of $500,000.

Many who love the Smokies already know Margaret Stevenson. Like Tom Cronan, she hiked Mt. LeConte religiously until her passing in 2006 (read her hiking journal online at <http://www.mtleconte.com/msleconte.htm>) In fact, Margaret's last overnight hike to Mt. LeConte was with Tom Cronan!

For many years Margaret Stevenson's Wednesday Hikers made holiday gifts in her honor to Friends of the Smokies, establishing a fund totaling $42,000. When the Wednesday Hikers heard of the matching component of the Trails Forever endowment, they voted unanimously to make the Margaret Stevenson Fund part of Trails Forever, thereby doubling the balance.

Trails Forever, the most ambitious fundraising campaign in Friends of the Smokies' 17-year history, is creating a legacy not only for the Friends organization but also for three very special people who loved Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

Tom Cronan

Lindsay Young

Trails Forever started as the dream of the Aslan Foundation of Knoxville and Lindsay Young's family. The foundation pledged a $2 million matching grant to establish an endowment for hiking trail improvements in the Smokies. As Friends of the Smokies raises $2 million, the Aslan Foundation matches it dollar-for-dollar. Lindsay Young's family felt that ensuring the conservation of the park's trail system in perpetuity would be a fitting tribute to Lindsay's memory. He loved the Smokies, and as a founding board member of Friends of the Smokies was passionate about Park preservation.

Margaret Stevenson

In 2010, the Aslan Foundation's match portion was $400,000.

On a gorgeous fall day, Friends President Jim Hart, Board Chair Mark Williams, and Board Advisor Jack Williams joined Superintendent Dale Ditmanson and Deputy Superintendent Kevin FitzGerald on a hike out to Andrew's Bald on the Forney Ridge Trail with park trails supervisors Christine Hoyer and Tobias Miller. They were able to see firsthand the work that has been done, and they met some of the Trails Forever volunteers.

(Front to back) Jim Hart, Christine Hoyer, Mark Williams, Kevin FitzGerald, Dale Ditmanson, and Tobias Miller

Mark Williams commented that the scope of work performed by the Trails Forever crew is amazing, especially considering that it has all been accomplished without the use of heavy equipment. However, the trails do not look manmade. It's all done with manual labor. He said the volunteers they met on the trip that day are "the happiest bunch you'd ever wanna meet." Mark also complimented the hard work of Tobias Miller and Christine Hoyer. "They are constantly on the trails interacting; making sure people are doing what they are supposed to be doing."

One of the aims of the Trails Forever program was to provide an opportunity for volunteers and youth to get involved in the park. In 2010, eight separate groups of college students from Georgia Southern University, New York University, The University of Virginia, and others did alternate spring break work trips in the Smokies performing Trails Forever projects.

Representatives of the leadership of Friends of the Smokies and Great Smoky Mountains National Park thanked Trails Forever volunteers for their hard work

Volunteer Hours

Volunteer hours increased dramatically from 2008 to 2010 as displayed in the graph above.

Year End Celebration

The year closed strong with more than 350 donors giving $51,000+ to Friends of the Smokies' year end appeal. The generosity of those who are passionate about the preservation and protection of the Smokies is simply amazing. Donors had the option to contribute directly to fund the purchase of the Hoffman property- 20 acres of land in Pittman Center, Tennessee surrounded on three sides by Great Smoky Mountains National Park adjacent to the Soak Ash Creek Wetlands.

Friends of the Smokies is working to transfer the two land parcels (9.51 acres undeveloped plus 10.32 acres and a substantial house) to park ownership as soon as possible. The park's beauty and biodiversity remain constant with Friends of the Smokies' help.

The Soak Ash Creek Wetlands (which at 27 acres is one of the largest wetland areas in our national park) are foraging grounds for black bears and are a rich habitat for birds (including 5 species on the US Fish & Wildlife Service's 2008 list of Birds of Conservation Concern: Peregrine falcon, Kentucky warbler, cerulean warbler, wood thrush, and worm-eating warbler) and native plant species.

In 2010, 81 volunteers gave 3,221 hours of their time to help Friends of the Smokies. Whether they assist with office management, the annual telethon, or other special events, our volunteers make a tremendous contribution to both Friends of the Smokies and Great Smoky Mountains National Park every year. Using figures derived from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, the non-profit group Independent Sector estimates the value of volunteer time in 2010 at $21.36 per hour. Using that figure, our volunteers contributed the equivalent of $68,801 to Friends of the Smokies last year. THANK YOU, VOLUNTEERS! We couldn't do it without you!
